

Junior Developer/STEM Student (40%)

ABOUT US

Twelve Capital is an independent investment manager specialising in insurance investments for institutional clients. We are also a leading provider of capital to the insurance and reinsurance industry. Our investment expertise covers the entire insurance balance sheet, including Insurance Bonds, Insurance Private Debt, Catastrophe Bonds, Private Insurance-Linked Securities and Insurance Equity. We also compose portfolios of our Best Ideas.

POSITION

We are looking for a Junior Developer/STEM Student (40%) based in our Zurich or London office, willing to step into a dynamic working environment. The position forms part of Twelve Capital's IT team supporting its core activities with a focus on the development of proprietary applications in JavaScript (front and backend), HTML, CSS MySQL. Long-term development opportunities will be offered in R, Python and data science.

PERSONAL ATTRIBUTES AND OTHER REQUIREMENTS

- Individual can be at any stage of their university career
- Complete SQL & HTML knowledge
- Fluent in at least one programming language
- Ability to work in a Linux environment
- Process oriented with good analytical skills with attention to detail
- Ability to handle multiple tasks/workflows with tight delivery schedules
- Team player with a proactive can-do attitude
- Good command of English, German beneficial

If you are interested in the role, then please send a covering letter with a copy of your CV (direct applications only) to:

Abby Dickens

Associate Director, Human Resources

careers@twelvecapital.com